Although this is a very rough representation of how I would like my page to look, I chose to create a design like this because it mimics my general aesthetic and, I think, represents my person accurately. I plan to create a very artistic, yet simple, header composted of my initials to stand front and center at every page of my site. Everything below my header will be centered. This creates a clean look that will allow my work to stand out while showcasing my design skills in the website itself.
